New City Budget Calls for Increase in Tax

Spending Outlay Of $5 Million For Year Seen

A Palm Springs city tax rate increase of three to eight cents per $100 assessed valuation is indicated in the $5,022,951 1962-63 preliminary budget which the city council will receive today.

The budget, up $519,820 from the current $4,503,131 could up the tax rate from $2.014 to $2.094, City Manager Daniel J. Wagner will tell the council members the final council budget will be evolved after more study sessions, and public hearings.

The preliminary requests submitted by department heads would have resulted in a $2.417 tax rate, up a strong 40 cents from the 1962 tax rate. The draft budget to be received by the council during the meeting at 7:30 p.m. today could give a tax rate of $2.094, an eight-cent increase based on an $80 million assessed valuation.

Could Cut

Final determination of the city's assessed valuation, plus final determination of cash reserves could effect a five-cent reduction in the tentative rate, for a net increase of three-cents in the total rate, Wagner said.

Wagner's budget message to the lawmakers calls for a "reasonable tax rate that will encourage new development . . ." in this resort city. He recommended that "all essential items be included, some of the desirable, and none of the luxury . . " to permit a "sound financial and businesslike posture . . . "

Wagner's projected budget shows a general fund tax rate—including money for the city advertising fund — of 98.7 cents. The figure, just under the legal maximum general fund rate of $1 per $100 assessed valuation is "close," Wagner said.

Advertising Held

Request budget figures would have caused $1.28 general fund rate, including 15 cents for advertising. Wagner's recommendations holding the line on the advertising request at $90,000, would result in an advertising fund rate of 11.3 cents. Largest increase in the item tax rates shown in the preliminary budget is 6.3 cents proposed for the park and recreation program, tentatively up from 11.4 cents to 17.7 cents per $100. Other major increase items in the administrative draft budget include four cents up for the sewer fund from nine to 14 cents, and 3.4 cents for a boulevard fund.

Indian Land Hearing on Zone Today

Council Under Pressure from Agua Calientes

A public hearing on the long-delayed Section 14 zoning will be held by the Palm Springs City Council during the meeting beginning at 7:30 p.m. today.

The council — which will enter the hearings under demands by the Agua Caliente Band of Mission Indians for "reasonable" and expeditious action today—was slated to review the zoning in a joint council - planning commission study luncheon session in the Riviera Hotel at noon.

The tentative zoning map to be presented by the planning commission conforms "generally" to the master plan evolved by consultant Simon Eisner, Richard Coleman, planning director, told The Desert Sun.

Tentative Plan

The tentative plan has heavy commercial zoning on Indian Avenue for most of the two mile length from East Ramon Road to Alejo Rad on the north. Lighter commercial zoning is shown on the map along Tahquitz-McCallum Way eastward from Indian Avenue toward El Cielo. A shopping center zone — in existence — is plotted for Sunrise Way at Ramon Road. Most of the remainder of the zoning is residential, ranging from R-3, hotel and apartment, to R-1a, single family residence.

One plot of guest ranch zoning is included in the east-center portion of the South half of Section 14. The guest ranch portion — now basically a holding zone but subject to revisions in the guest ranch ordinance — could be an area for compromise, city hall sources indicated.

Threat

The Agua Caliente Indians have threatened to bring suit in federal court, Los Angeles, challenging the right of Palm Springs to zone Indian-owned lands held in trust by the federal government if "expeditious" action isn't taken by the council today.

The council will hear planning commission recommendations that Belardo Road and Calle Encilia, streets which bracket the mid-town arteries of Indian Avenue and Palm Canyon Drive, be con-

Laos Rebels Halt Push

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) —Pro-Communist Laotian rebels, possibly aided by North Vietnamese troops, were reported today to have broken off a new offensive after capturing a royal government outpost near Houei Sai.

Radio messages received from American military advisers in the Mekong River border village said the rebel drive stopped just before dark Sunday.

Rare Indian Drug Nabbed In Spa 'Party-House' Raid

Peyote Believed Cause of Orgy; Seven Jailed

Seven persons, including a housewife and a 16-year-old girl were jailed early today in a "party-house" dope raid staged at the eastern edge of the city by Palm Springs police.

Seized by raiding officers was a quantity of peyote, an exotic Indian drug which Police Chief August G. Kettmann said was believed responsible for a series of sex orgies conducted in the home.

The raid and arrests climaxed a 10-day stake-out by officers that followed the finding of a drug victim unconscious in the desert about two weeks ago, Chief Kettmann said.

Suspects Listed

Held under suspicion of possession of illegal drigs were:

Irene Aerina Kelly, 33, of 62-607 E. Ramon Raod.

Gerald David Kelly, 31, of the same address.

Samuel Louis Komie, 38, of 62-607 E. Ramon Road.

Arthur Charles Grady, 28, of 62-607 E. Ramon Road.

Andre Fairmont, 26, of 8425 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles.

John Gifford McGrad, 20, of 62-607 E. Ramon Raod.

Also held was a 16-year-old Cathedral City girl, who officers said would be handled as a juvenile.

The raid was staged under direction of Det. Lt. Carroll Vogelaar with Det. Carl Hulslander, Sgt. Ray Youngberg and Patrolman Quincy Welch at 4:30 a.m. today.

Drug Hidden in Sand

Lt. Vogelaar said he and his officers hit the house after observing some of the occupants go into the back yard and dig up peyote that had been hidden in the sand.

It was the first time the rare Indian drug had been involved in a local narcotics case, Chief Kettmann reported.

Kettmann reported that during the prolonged 24-hour-a-day stakeout on the Ramon Road home officers watched a large number of persons come and go, most of them participating in loud parties.

After one night seeing persons go from the home and dig in the back yard, the observing officers found some of the drug and it was identified as peyote, Kettmann said.

Sensuous Intoxicant

The base material for the narcotic is flower seed buttons from a variety of cactus which is brewed into a tea which has a sensuously intoxicating effect, Chief Kettmann reported.

It is believed to be the same material used by some Southern Indian tribes to produce trance in certain ritual ceremonies.

Kettmann reported the Kellys had been arrested and had pleaded guilty to narcotics charges about two months ago, that case involving marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia.

Filing of formal charges in the case were awaiting decisions by the district attorney's office, Kettmann said.

Evidence in Bombing of Jet Mounts

Dynamite Blast In Washroom Found Cause

CENTERVILLE, Iowa (UPI) — Federal investigators today pieced together new evidence indicating that a dynamite-type bomb placed in a washroom ripped apart a Continental Airlines jet liner 39,000 feet above the earth.

Experts from the Civil Aeronautics Board gave newsmen their first closeup look at a reconstruction of the rear section of the Boeing 707 jet which crashed into Missouri farmland Tuesday night killing all 45 persons aboard.

John Leak, senior engineer for the engineering division of the CAB's Bureau of Safety, said the blast "originated from a very small space." Indications are that it was set off by a simple detonating device, such as a fuse, and that the person who touched it off was not in the washroom at the time of the blast, he said.

Reports mounted that the FBI men and other investigators were looking into the possibility of a suicide-murder pact between a man and a woman who had booked passage on the plane from Chicago to Kansas City.

FBI agents in Chicago, Kansas City and Centerville would make no direct comment on the reports, although they indicated there might be an FBI announcement on the subject later in the day in Washington.

The "murder - suicide" theory was linked to unconfirmed reports that someone on the plane had taken out $225,000 in air travel insurance.

ELECTION TALK filled the air at Shadow Mountain Club in Palm Desert Saturday evening as this threesome awaited a call to dinner. Speaker of the evening was George Christopher, mayor of San Francisco, left, who is seeking the Republican nomination as lieutenant governor. Center is Edgar McCoubrey, Palm Springs auto dealer and Christopher's local campaign manager. At right is William (Bill) Cook, a candidate for county supervisor in the Fourth District.

Reds Launch Satellite in Moon Series

MOSCOW (UPI) —The Soviet Union launched another unmanned earth satellite today in its current series of tests aimed at putting a man on the moon, the Soviet Tass news agency said.

Tass said the new satellite, called Cosmos V, was circling the earth every 102.75 minutes at heights ranging from 126 miles to about 993 miles at its highest, with "all systems functioning normally."

Cosmos V's maximum distance from the earth is greater by some 24 miles than any of the previous shots.

Mayor Christopher in Call for Restoration

A call has been issued here for "conservative right-thinking Democrats" to join with Republican voters in action to restore "good government" to California.

This appeal keyed an address at the Shadow Mountain Club Saturday night by San Francisco's Mayor George Christopher, who is seeking the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor in the June 5 primary election.

Citing a governmental reorganization his administration has achieved for San Francisco, Christopher asserted that our state government urgently needs the same kind of attention and must be thoroughly overhauled, and the administration of laws streamlined.

"California's is the biggest government in the nation next to the federal government itself, and we can no longer afford to have the state run without the best judgments of its people," Christopher declared.

Mayor Christopher was addressing a crowd of about 100 supporters at a dinner staged by County Chairman Edgar McCoubrey and Christopher's Coachella Valley Committee.

A busy evening followed. Christopher went into the club to address a gathering of more than 200, which included the Palm Desert Business & Professional Association's annual dinner.

Still later Christopher made a brief appearance before the installation banquet of the Palm Springs Junior Chamber of Commerce at Holiday Inn.

Preceding Christopher's visit here Saturday was Darven L. Paddock, Republican Candidate for state treasurer, who stressed that his background as a business executive was exactly what is needed to streamline and improve this section of governmental operations.

Paddock is a successful businessman who lives in Glendale.

'Mushrooms' Pop In Springs Sky

An unexplained phenomenon Sunday blasted miniature "mushrooms" into the sky west of Palm Springs, police reported today.

Peter Laverty, 1309½ E. Ramon Road, advised police at 8:33 p.m. that he and his wife had observed black balls shooting into the air, and then flaring into mushroom shapes.

An investigating officer reported the same observation, apparently on the skyline above the Desert Inn location. No explanation for the appearances were available.

NEWS in BRIEF

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Agriculture Department official told House investigators today there is reason to believe that Billie Sol Estes is guilty of a criminal violation in his grain storage dealings with the government.

In making the first such public charge against the Texas financier, the official said information on the matter had been turned over to the FBI and the Justice Department. He said the alleged violation involved false financial statements and carried up to a five-year prison term on conviction.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. D. S. Saund's condition was reported unchanged today after a weekend report indicating "positive improvement," the California Democrat's office reported today.

BERLIN (UPI) — Western and Communist police fought a gun duel across a border canal within sight of afternoon strollers Sunday after the Reds shot down a fleeing refugee.

None of the policemen was hurt in the exchange of 60 shots, but East German officials report the refugee died of his wounds in a hospital.

MADRID (UPI) — Thousands of striking coal miners returned to work today after Generalissimo Francisco Franco dramatically appealed to all Spaniards to make "sacrifices" for the common good of the nation.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic leaders were hopeful the Senate would vote today on an administration - supported public works program and that the vote would be a favorable one.

$2,750,000 HOTEL DEAL

Howard Manor Expansion Told

Expansion of the Howard Manor Hotel to a 152-room convention-type facility is expected to get under way this summer under a $2,750,000 deal that includes the sale of the hotel property.

Detailed plans for the hotel expansion were disclosed by hotelman Samuel DeSarno today following disclosure in Los Angeles that the hotel has been purchased by the Appel-Slaten Development Co., Los Angeles.

The transaction covers sale of the property to Appel-Slaten and lease back to Howard Manor, Inc., a corporation owned by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. DeSarno and their family. The agreement covers a 25-year lease with three five-year options.

Under terms of the agreement the new owners will demolish most of the existing hotel structure and rebuild it as a new luxury hotel occupying a full block fronting on Indian Avenue between Via Colusa and Granvia.

DeSarno disclosed that architectural plans for the reconstruction already have been completed and will be submitted for approval by the City Building Department within two weeks.

DeSarno said the plans call for construction of a three-story structure facing on Indian Ave., and two stories along Granvia, all to be within requirements of present city building code.

"The existing Celebrity Lounge and Dining Room will remain as they are, but all other structures except for some of the cottages will be demolished and rebuilt, DeSarno said.

"The existing modified colonial style of the structure will be retained while the patio, gardens and other facilities are enlarged," hotelman DeSarno announced.

The hotel at present has only 44 rooms. The expansion will add 112 bedrooms, most of which will be in connecting pairs of two-bedroom suites, DeSarno said.

All of the sites will have king-size beds and each will have its own balcony facing upon the patio. The lobby will be at the center of the Indian Avenue side, adjacent to facilities for two or more hotel shops. A banquet room to seat 300 is planned south of the present dining room, to make a total serving capacity of 550 persons.

DeSarno said the plans by Architect Daniel L. Dworsky provide for off-street parking for all hotel facilities, part of it on property recently acquired adjacent to the present hotel grounds.

A BRIGHT NEW FACADE in modified colonial style is planned for the Howard Manor Hotel under an expansion project announced today. This perspective shows three floors of balconied suites facing on Indian Avenue between Via Colusa and Granvia, retaining the present tile and stucco finish of the building.

Jim Hicks Takes Helm of JayCees

Palm Springs' hard - working Junior Chamber of Commerce has new officers today, following rollicking installation "ceremonies" at the Holiday Inn Saturday night.

With a fun-filled dinner-dance, the JayCees and their wives, the J.C. Ettes, demoted the past year's officers and installed new ones for another year of activities.

An unscheduled feature of the evening was the sudden appearance of Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco, candidate for lieutenant governor, who "dropped in" to offer his congratulations to Jim Hicks, an old acquaintance, in his new role of JayCee president.

Hicks took over the gavel from Charlie Kasmer, and installed to serve with Hicks were Jerry Hunt, first vice president; Dick Smith, second vice president; Ken Parker, treasurer; Ken Putizier, secretary; Tom McGrath, state representative.

Directors

And directors John Niel, Jack Oberle, Dr. Frank Meyer, Hank Mollner, Ken Jackson and Kasmer.

J.C. Ettes installed by Dee Martin, past president, were Terry Niel, president; Judy Coulton, senior past president; herself as junior past president; Marge Parker, vice president; Carl Christy, treasurer; Shiela Kasmer, secretary and publicity chairman; Mary Hill, social chairman; and Sue Smith, convention chairman.

Past president Bill Foster served as installation officer for the men, introducing past presidents Dr. Bob Backstom, who demoted, and Herb Esbith, who conducted the installation.

Jack Oberle was presented the outstanding member award, and other awards went to Jim Thompson, outstanding chairman; Ken Parker, outstanding director; Ken Putizier, outstanding new member; and Jerry Hunt, Spoke Award.

Ken Jackson presented to Col. Thomas Parker and honorary membership for his contributions to the activities of the JayCees during the past year.

The brief principal address of the evening was delivered by Robert Alexander, who outlined the economic growth of the nation in recent decades, emphasining that its population has doubled in the past 50 years and that the prosperity curve has followed the population curve.

"The destiny of our nation lies in the minds of men under 35," Alexander told the packed banquet room.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The pacifist crew of the trimaran Everyman and three supporters of its attempted protest voyage to the U.S. nuclear testing area in the Pacific were scheduled to appear in federal court today on a charge of contempt.

At least one of the men, Ed Lazar, 27, was expected to appear in a wheelchair. He has refused to walk since he was carried off the Everyman by a federal marshal outside the Golden Gate Saturday afternoon.

Lazar, Hal Stallings, 30, and Dick Yoes, 30, sailed their 30-foot boat out into the Pacific in defiance of a U.S. District Court order forbidding them to set sail for the Christmas Island nuclear testing area.

U.S. Atty. Cecil F. Poole obtained the injunction against the Everyman at the request of Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy. After the Everyman departed, Poole obtained warrants against the three men, overtook the trimarin in a Coast Guard vessel, and served the warrants 10 miles off the West Coast.

Similar warrants were served on Carl May, registered owner of the Everyman; Roger Moss, Robert Swann, and the organization which sponsored the proposed voyage, the Committee for Nonviolent Action.

Yoes and Stallings left the Everyman when the warrants were served, but Lazar lay down on the deck and forced a federal marshal to carry him off the boat.

Yoes and Stallings were freed, pending today's hearing, but Lazar was arraigned in a wheelchair Sunday on a charge of obstructing federal officers in the performance of their duty.

Boy Scouts Honor Court Set Tuesday

The final Court of Honor of the Palm Springs Scout District will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in city hall.

Approximately 20 boys from throughout the district are expected to be presented honors during the ceremony to be headed by Russ Hewitson, newly named district chairman. Tom Eckstrom is chairman of the preparations committee.

A total of 400 boys are enrolled in 14 Scout units throughout the Palm Springs district, which extends north to Desert Hot Springs and southeast to Rancho Mirage.

World War Hero York Acutely Ill

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (UPI) — Sgt. Alvin B. York, a red-haired giant from the Tennessee hills whose skill with a rifle made him a one-man army in World War I, is "acutely ill" at a hospital here.

The 74-year-old Medal of Honor winner, bedridden since 1954, was taken to Fentress County General Hospital last Saturday. Dr. Guy C. Pinkley, who has cared for him for the past 25 years, said York apparently had suffered a gastro-intestinal hemorrhage.

Pinkley said he saw no immediate cause for "too much alarm." He said Sunday night the bleeding had been checked.

Since 1942 York has fought off lobar pneumonia, heart trouble, high blood pressure, a hemmorrhage in his right eye and a stroke that left him partially paralyzed. He lives in a "ferris wheel" bed that lets him shift his position by himself and sit up to watch television.

High Court Turns Down New Appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today again turned down an appeal from eight of the men sentenced to life for the notorious $1.2 million Brinks robbery in Boston.

The court, in a brief unsigned order, refused to hear a new appeal from the eight. A similar appeal from the convicted gang members was turned down by the justices in 1959.

In other actions today, the court:

—Refused to consider its April 23 order which sent back to the Michigan Supreme Court a voting apportionment case which challenged the geographical allocation of the state's senatorial districts. Michigan officials had urged the court to reconsider.

—Refused to review two Oregon state Supreme Court decisions which upheld the convictions of Levi S. McDonald, a member of the Stereotypers Union, for dynamiting two trucks operated by two Portland newspapers. The dynamitings occurred during a 1960 strike.

—Denied a hearing to Bernard August, a Philadelphia school teacher dismissed from his job in 1954 on grounds of "incompetancy" because of his actions during an inquiry into communism.

Jack Benny's Nose Was Security For Young Bergen at Christening

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Edgar Bergen's 6-month-old son was christened Sunday while his godfather, Jack Benny, held him in his arms.

The Rev. Melvin Wheatly officiated at the brief ceremony in the Wilshire Methodist Church attended by about 20 family friends, including Dick Powell, June Allyson and musician Johnny Greene.

The youngster, apparently baffled by all the commotion about him, didn't resort to crying or sucking his thumb, but reached up and latched on securely to Benny's nose.

Memorial Day's Services Slated

Civic groups and churches of the community will join for a special Memorial Day observance sponsored by Owen Coffman Post 519 American Legion Wednesday morning in the Welwood Murray Cemetery on Chino Drive in Palm Springs.

Francis A. Dwyer, commander, announced the program will begin at 10 a.m. with Catholic, Jewish and Protestant church leaders participating along with a U.S. Marine Corps squad from Twentynine Palms.

Following the Welwood Murray Cemetery rites the Marine unit and Legionnaires will go to the Palm Springs District Cemetery for brief rites at 11 a.m., Dwyer said.

Participating in the 10 a.m. program will be Rev. Frederick A. Barnhill, Jerome T. Bunker, Harry Tomlinson, Christine Tomlinson, Rabbi Joseph Hurwitz, Fr. William G. Goodrow, Chet Goff, Mrs. Lucy Wohlgemuth and H. Gerald Helmer.

Cooperating organizations include the American Legion Auxiliary, Gold Star Mothers, 40 & 8 Voiture, Jewish War Veterans, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Elks Lodge 1905, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Optimist Clubs, and local Boy Scouts.

Cologne to Campaign in Spa Tuesday

Assemblyman Gordon Cologne, Republican incumbent representing the 71st District, will greet Palm Springs voters at the Republican Assembly Headquarters, 440 North Palm Canyon Drive, Tuesday at 4:30 p.m., according to George Pryor, city chairman for Cologne.

Pryor said Cologne's visit here will mark the end of an auto caravan tour scheduled to start Tuesday morning in Riverside followed by visits to Corona, Elsinore, lunch at Hemet and stops in Banning and Beaumont.

Cologne is seeking reelection to the assembly post to which he was first elected in 1960. During his cavalcade tour he will address campaign workers in nine cities.

Carpenter Heads Home

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—Handsome Scott Carpenter, 37, America's newest space hero, goes to his home town of Boulder, Colo., today for a brief appearance, then returns to his first love the serious business of being an astronaut.

Welcomed back to the United States Sunday at an enthusiastic reception here, Carpenter was to be accompanied to Colorado by his blonde wife, Rene, their four children and his mother, Mrs. Florence Carpenter of Boulder.

The Carpenters planned to drive to Boulder from Denver where they arrive this evening and spend the night in Boulder. The college town, where Carpenter attended the University of Colorado, plans a celebration Tuesday in honor of the astronaut.

Wednesday, Carpenter is to be the star attraction of a Memorial Day parade in Denver. Then he and his family will return to their home near Langley Field, Va., where he will resume his duties on the space frontier.

Carpenter flew to Patrick Air Force Base Sunday from Grand Turk Island, where he had undergone two days of careful analysis of his reactions, mental and physical, to the three-orbit space voyage he made last Thursday.

Session Today

The council and planning commission held study discussions of proposed high-rise building allowances during the noon study session today. The council, which had indicated informal receptiveness to the Desert Inn plan for a 90-foot high hotel in the toe of the west foothills, will seek areas of agreement with the planning commission. The commission, in discussion of high-rise buildings last Wednesday, expressed moderate enthusiasm to tacit rejection of the high-rise proposal.

Space Flight Was 'Easy As Bus Ride'

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The flight of Scott Carpenter, who found space travel "as easy as a bus ride", almost certainly set the stage for America's next Mercury launch to be a seven-orbit adventure with a landing in the Pacific instead of the Atlantic.

Epace officials said today that on the strength of Carpenter's successful three orbits of earth last Thursday they expected the ambitious new space voyage to be scheduled for next fall. The trip would take more than 10 hours and the astronaut would be recovered near Midway Island.

Further triple orbits would be dispensed with, these sources believed, pointing out that the Carpenter and John H. Glenn Jr. flights had confirmed the basic soundness of the Mercury spacecraft and demonstrated that two men of relatively different make-up could take 4½-hour periods of weightlessness in stride.

Disclosure of the prospective step-up in American space exploration came after Carpenter delivered what he called a "working astronaut's" report to the people who paid for his trip, the taxpayers, and declared: "I'm ready for two weeks in orbit."

He described himself as "uneasy" in the spotlight of public acclaim. But he delivered his report at a televised news conference Sunday in the matter-of-fact, assured manner of a veteran engineering test pilot who had his troubles on a tough mission but did not let them obscure the solid results.

"In many respects this was as easy as a bus ride," he said of the flight.

He acknowledged he made mistakes, especially in allowing the fuel supply for his control jets to run critically low. He "apologized" for the concern he caused when his spacecraft overshot its landing target and his whereabouts were unknown while he bobbed in the Atlantic in a liferaft for 40 minutes.

Back on Grand Turk Island, where he underwent medical and engineering examinations after the flight, he had admitted to some concern during re-entry into the atmosphere with his fuel gone and his craft oscillating.

FLAGS, 1000 of them, were given to those in attendance at the dedication of Cathedral City's new post office Saturday, when the Marine Corps Band from 29 Palms played, postal officials spoke, refreshments were served and everybody had a good look at the new facility. The ceremony was followed that evening by a dedication banquet. (Desert Sun Photo)

SCORES IN ATTENDANCE

Post Office in C.C. Dedicated

CATHEDRAL CITY — Scores of flag-laden residents and visitors here participated in the Saturday afternoon dedication ceremonies for the new Cathedral City Post Office.

Donations of 1,000 American Flags were made by local businessmen and individuals here to give a patriotic key to the semi-formal event.

Postmaster Alfred F. Patane, whose two years of work for the new postal facility were climaxed in the dedication, told the audience and honored guests that co-operative community service had given impetus to erection of the 6,400 square feet building. The structure was built by Irwin E. Kane, Los Angeles and Tamarisk County Club, under the Post Office Department lease program.

Patane and Rex Thompson, master of ceremonies, jointly presented Mrs. Claude Cobb, first postmistress of Cathedral City. Distinguished visitors included Marie Mayer, North Palm Springs, head of the county Postmasters Association, Sheriff Joe Rice, S. Merritt Williams, Palm Springs postmaster, and Mrs. Dorothy Sippy, president of the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce and others.

Milton E. Swiers, chief of the postal Organization Services, San Francisco, delivered the main address, stressing increase of postal service. Postal service has increased 128 per cent since 1950, while employes have increased 59 per cent, he said. Stressing the continuing search for efficiency in operation, Swiers pointed out that American postal service is 13 times the 1890 rate, and now accounts for two-thirds of all the postal service in the world.

Miss Autumn Day, Palm Springs High School senior and winner of the Palm Springs American Legion Americanism speech contest, read an ode to the flag. Climax to the ceremony was the raising of a nylon Flag which had flown over the national capitol. The flag, presented by Postmaster General J. Edward Day through Swiers, was raised by a Marine Corps Color Guard as the band played the National Anthem.

The Rev. Joseph Leissler, pastor of St. Louis Catholic Church, delivered invocation, and the Rev. James H. Blackstone, Jr., pastor of Palm Springs Community Church, pronounced benediction. The Marine Corps Band, Twentynine Palms, played special music and provided the color guard. Presentation of the Colors was performed by an American Legion guard.

A celebration banquet in Wonder Palms Hotel Saturday evening capped the observances of the day. Feature entertainment was provided by Palm Springs High School signers led by Alex Hammond, accompanied by Mrs. Wynne Hammond.

Performers included "The Sixteens," comprising Lynne Hamerschlag, Kathy Shepard, Carol Paul, Vicki Palmer and Judy Coletti, and "We Four Plus One," Carol Paul soloed with the quintet, which includes Dave Kennedy, Tommy Pickell, Bob Driskel and Gary Beebe.

Henderson's Funeral Set On Tuesday

Palm Springs Mounted Police and Masonic Lodge members will participate in funeral services tomorrow for David Robert Henderson, 58, for many years an official for the State Division of Highways in the desert area.

Henderson, most recently at the Highway Maintenance Station on Highway 111, Palm Springs, died Saturday at Desert Hospital. A native of Utah, he had lived in Palm Springs 22 years, in California 49 years.

A charter member of the Palm Springs Mounted Police, Henderson had been a leader in the Oddfellows Lodge and was a county counselor for the Boy Scouts.

Services will be conducted from Weifels & Son Banning Chapel Tuesday at 11 a.m. with San Gorgonio Lodge 668 F & A.M. officiating and interment in Sunnyslope Cemetery, Banning.

Surviving are the widow, Amy a son, Robert of Banning; two brothers, Sam and Adelbert Henderson; four sisters, Mrs. Buck Renshaw, Mrs. Grace Denny, Mrs. Glenn Murray and Mrs. Frances O'Hara; his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McCoy; and two grandchildren.

Friends may call at the chapel from noon Monday.

Husband of Woman in Blasted Car Arrested

INDIO — The 47-year-old estranged husband of an Indio woman who escaped with minor injuries when a bomb exploded under the hood of her car here early Friday was arrested Saturday on a charge of attempted murder.

Indio police reported that William Murray Farmer, a Brawley feedyard foreman, was arrested in Brawley after his alibi on his location at the times nearing the blast here were not confirmed by a 14-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Juanita Farmer, 40, victim of the blast which tore a hole in the firewall of her car early Friday, spewing shredded metal through the vehicle's interior, was released from Casita Hospital Sunday. She suffered minor cuts over most of her body, but was not in the direct line of most of the blast.

To The Public:

We have planned for the community of Palm Springs a $10 million development of the historic Desert Inn property. Nothing like it has been seen or even projected for the desert area before.

In these plans are a 450 room hotel, tucked back against and blending in with the mountain backdrop. It will include a 1050 seat convention auditorium, restaurant, swimming pool, tennis courts. This new Desert Inn will be a showplace among the famous hotels of the world.

Access to the hotel will be along a 750 foot shopping mall, 120 feet wide, divided by a wide landscaped area highlighted by fountains. Here shops with an international flavor will attract discerning shoppers from all over the country.

The entire building area will occupy but 19 percent of the 800,000 square foot property, with the balance devoted to parking and extensive landscaping.

Of major interest and benefit to Palm Springs is our offer to dedicate access through the heart of our area for the cut through and extension of Belardo Road. The value of this property to be dedicated has been conservatively appraised at $400,000. This would immeasurably alleviate present cross town traffic congestion problems.

The entire development, so as to be a cultural as well as a financial asset to Palm Springs, has been placed under the direction and planning of world-renowned architects Charles Luckman and Associates.

If our plans meet with the approval of the Planning Commission and City Council, we can complete specifications and preliminary site revisions within four months and actually have the new Desert Inn ready for occupancy and conventions by December, 1963. Delay will move us into the 1964 season and probably entail extensive revisions in our thinking.

We do not, however, wish to plan or construct anything contrary to the wishes of the community. We've had, in past years, too much a hand in the orderly development of Palm Springs to feel otherwise.

This is your community and we feel this development will enhance and benefit it and you.

If you think so, or if you disagree, make your wishes known to your city council and planning commission by writing, telephoning or in person at the hearing June 6.

Problems of Humidity Bad As Heat and Cold

How many times have you heard the phrase, "It's not the heat, it's the humidity."

Humidity, which is the amount of water vapor in the air, can impair health and ruin valuable possessions in the home. And it can do either when there is too much or too little humidity in the atmosphere of the home.

In terms of health, excessively low humidity in the air of your house will dry up the skin and the membranes of the nose and throat. It also will dry out book bindings, expensive leather goods, and make the fibers of rugs and carpets dry and brittle.

The effects of too high humidity in the home are equally bad. Wood furnishings will swell, drawers will stick, mold and mildew will form on books, leather goods and carpets.

Thus far the experts have not decided on just what is the ideal relative humidity for the home. Relative humidity is the percentage of water vapor the air can hold, with 100 per cent the maximum. It is relative because, the warmer the air, the more water it can hold.

Get A Gauge

The first step in gaining control of the humidity in your home, according to the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute, is to buy a reliable humidity meter or gauge.

Most scientists agree that the comfort zone of relative humidity lies between 30 per cent and 50 per cent. But there are certain practical limits, based on the construction of your home, on just what is best and practical for you.

In summer, when the warm air can hold more moisture, humidity paradoxically is less of a problem in air-conditioned spaces, since air-conditioners not only lower temperatures but dehumidify as well .

The main home humidity problem is excessively dry air in winter. When low temperature, high humidity air infiltrates a house through cracks around windows, it will lower interior humidity readings appreciably.

Living Releases Vapor

Luckily, normal living releases considerable water vapor into the air. For example, a person who remains in the house the entire day will give off by evaporation from his body between three and four pints of water vapor. Another half-pint is released from a shower and half that amount from a tub bath. Mopping and rinsing an average kitchen floor accounts for another quart, while cooking releases quantities of water vapor that vary with conditions.

But in addition to these natural sources of water vapor present in most homes, why do some houses have relatively high humidity readings even in cold weather?

Leaks Cause Trouble

The answer usually lies in construction faults: a leaky roof or rain gutters, poorly sealed basement walls, moisture from the ground concentrating in a crawl space under the house, or a poorly laid concrete slab that permits moisture to come through it and up into the flooring.

The two big headaches that can come from excessive water vapor in the air in cold weather are condensation on windows and inside walls, commonly see in misted windows, and the possibility that ice and water will form within the walls themselves and cause serious damage.

In these cases wall insulation and storm windows should be considered if the house does not already have them.

If the problem is too little humidity in winter, there are a number of commercial devices that release measured amounts of moisture into the air.

But if the problem is summer humidity control, the answer may very well be a carefully-designed central air-conditionng system that takes into account all the heat and humidity-producing factors in your home and controls them by a flick of a switch.

WALL FLOWERS FRESH

Summer Parties Are Tops Air Conditioned

There's nothing like hot, muggy weather to throw a wet blanket on family entertaining. That's one reason why so many families equip new homes with through-the-wall room air conditioners during construction, or install efficient window units after they move in.

Modern room air conditioners in the living or recreation rooms help make summer entertaining a pleasure for both hostess and guests. Everyone has a better time when the festivities aren't stifled by summer heat and humidity.

Today's electric room air conditioners are designed to extract excess moisture from the air and to maintain a comfortable humidity. At the same time they provide cooled air that's been filtered to trap airborne dust and irritating pollens.

Room air conditioners are available with a wide variety of cooling capacities. This makes it easy to air condition an entire house, room by room, with the appropriately sized units to do the job most efficiently and economically.

For example a room air conditioner rated at 6,000 to 6,600 BTU's might be used in a bedroom, while a 15,000 BTU unit might be just right to provide cool comfort for a combined family-living room area.

Air Conditioners Rated in BTUs

A British thermal unit, the measure being used increasingly in standard ratings for air-conditioning equipment, is the amount of heat necessary to raise the temperature of one pound of water one degree in temperature.

The Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute points out that in central air - conditioners customers should specify that their equipment be rated in British thermal units per hour (Btuh) and bear the ARI Seal of Certification.

In the past, a variety of rating terms such as "tons" and "horsepower" were confusing the public

Choosing The Right Machine

Quality air conditioners on the market today are tested and rated to meet standards of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association.

What does this mean to a family planning to buy hot weather control for their home in the form of a new room air conditioner?

1. It puts an end to confusing "horsepower" and "ton" designations. Now, the more accurate BTU method is used to describe cooling capacity. NEMA standards stipulate that the BTU capacity be marked on the data plate of each air conditioner.

2. A family is assured its new room air conditioner will deliver the cooling capacity listed on the data plate.

3. The BTU system simplifies the problem of determining what capacity unit is best for individual needs. All the home owner has to do is give his appliance dealers a few facts, such as size, location and use of the room, plus number of windows and directions they face.

4. The NEMA standards reduce chances of a home owner purchasing an undersized or oversized model.

Size Is Important

Which room unit or central air conditioner will best suit the needs of a family?

First, it's important to decide the size, style and type of air conditioner needed. There are four basic types.

1. Central air condtioning or heat pump units. These are installed in new homes while under construction or older one when being remodelled in one central area. Ducts carry the cool air to outlets throughout the home.

2. Window units. These are attractive and trim and designed for easy installation by the home home owners.

3. Through the wall. These are similiar to window units but designed to fit into a metal sleeve installed through an exterior wall.

4. Mobile. Modern portable units pack high cooling capacity into a lightweight, compact package. Some can be carried and others wheeled to where they are needed. But all must have access to outside air.

AIR CONDITIONERS should be purchased according to the job that must be done. This small window unit is ideal for such areas as a nursery. A larger unit would be required for a living area, kitchen or entire house.

Cooled Schools Are Cheaper; Both Kids and Teachers Benefit

Public school districts scattered across the nation will spend an estimated $25 billion during the next 10 years on new building construction.

The reason is our exploding classroom population, which in the next decade will increase by 7,600,000 pupils.

To meet this challenge of getting the most school for the least money, many school boards, especially those in desert areas such as this, have turned to the concept of air conditioning, which permits more compact design and a more stable interior environment.

Once considered a luxury in the schoolhouse, air conditioning has played an increasing role in new school construction—studies show better performance by both students and teachers.

The Big Question: Can We Afford It?

The problem of your Yes or No vote on the five bond issue propositions on the State ballot June 5 is merely complicated by the fact that all five are calculated to appeal to the emotions. It isn't solved.

If you vote No, proponents say, you will rob (1) school construction, (2) veterans, (3) state construction, largely schools, (4) the elderly and handicapped, and (5) the recreation program.

Since no one wishes to handicap any of these groups and programs, the problem then becomes a question as to whether the proposals are sound and whether we and our children can afford them.

To evaluate this properly you must appreciate that these bonds, if voted, represent a form of budget balancing wherein present obligations, if met now, would add to the general tax load. If put on the backs of our children for payment, only the servicing is shown on the current State budget.

Even Proposition 2, Veterans Bonds, would add to the veteran exemptions from the general tax rolls. Proposition 4, similarly self-liquidating, specifically exempts the elderly and handicapped homes to be built from local taxation.

Proposition 1, school building bonds, not only would add to the State tax load, but also to the local load, just as have past proposals for State money to aid local school construction. The gimmick here is that to become eligible for this State aid, local school districts must be impoverished; i.e., they must be bonded to 95 percent of legal bonding capacity. Since 1949, school districts have made poverty a virtue by deliberately bonding themselves to the legal maximum so as to be in a position to receive State construction moneys. With all loan money unpaid after 30 years forgiven, the problem is largely one, for local school districts, simply of how to stay broke.

Yet, for reasons which will be elaborated upon in a separate treatment, The Desert Sun recommends a YES vote on Proposition 1. On all others, NO. The NO recommendations will also be subsequently and separately analyzed.

Primarily, unless we just don't give a damn about the load we place on the future, these proposals are fiscally unsound. They are unsound because, added to the bond debt already pressing the State's taxpayers, the cost of repaying principal and paying interest, snowballs in 10 years far beyond the projected rise in income.

Specifically, the State's general fund income is projected to rise 111 per cent by 1971-72. By 1971-72, however, the annual debt service costs will have risen from $38 million at present to $171 million — a fantastic rise of 348 per cent.

That's paying for present needs with our children's dollars, despite an annual State budget approaching $3 billion.

The five bond propositions June 5 total $970 million, a great big straw on an already overloaded back. We've got to look at these, as all other governmental expenditures, with the question not only of desirability or even necessity, but, "Can we afford it?"

The Desert Sun believes we can and should afford Proposition 1, School Construction bonds. We recommend a No vote on the other four bond proposals.

Display Our Flag on Wednesday

On Wednesday of this week, May 30, the people of Palm Springs will join with Americans all over, in observance of Memorial Day.

Memorial Day, 94 years old this year, was first observed in 1868 by the Grand Army of the Republic by order of Gen. John A. Logan, commander of the GAR and the date was officially set as May 30 each year.

Since that day the nation has been engaged in several minor wars and three major wars. And Memorial Day has become a day to pay tribute and honor to the memory of all of the brave men who made the supreme sacrifice for their country in all of these wars.

The day is also known as Decoration Day, the day to decorate the graves of the nation's Hero Dead with flowers, to stand in reverence at their shrines.

In this century alone, more than a half million men have paid with their lives to preserve this nation and to protect its ideals.

Memorial Day is not just another holiday, to be spent away from the office or store, a day for picnics and automobile trips.

When the significance of the observance is pondered, it is much more important than that.

These men fought and died for an ideal. On Wednesday, we should again resolve to be of service to our country, determining that what has been secured by sacrifice can be preserved by inspired citizenship.

Wednesday, May 30, is Memorial Day. It is dedicated to the memory of the hundreds of thousands of men who died, in their prime, for their country.

The regulations for the display of the flag list it as one of the days on which the Star Spangled Banner should be displayed. On public buildings and in public places, the regulations provide that the flag should be flown at half mast until noon.

But before homes and business places, where this is not possible, the flag should be displayed throughout the daylight hours.

Wednesday is dedicated to the men who died to protect that flag. They made it possible that it continues to fly.

The least you can do, in honor to their memory, is to show your appreciation and understanding of their sacrifice.

Display the Flag Wednesday.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Packed NLRB Rewrites Labor Act

WASHINGTON, D. C.—By two key appointments to the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), President Kennedy is "rewriting" the Labor Law without bothering to go to Congress where, most certainly, he could not obtain such results.

Since few Americans are acquainted with the quasi-judicial NLRB, its five members may be briefly introduced:

Frank W. McCulloch, an ADA member and former Administrative Assistant to Senator Paul Douglas, is a sincere, gentle, respected liberal. He was appointed by President Kennedy.

P. Ray Rodgers, a Taft Republican from Utah, is an Eisenhower hold-over, formerly a counselor to the Senate Labor-Welfare committee, former professor of political science at American University. Because he usually differs, energetically and cogently with the NLRB decisions, Rodgers is known as the Great Dissenter.

John H. Fanning, an Eisenhower - appointed Democrat from Rhode Island, is described by conservative critics as being "as bad an appointment as Earl Warren was to the Supreme Court." Liberals,of course, take this description as a compliment.

Boyd Leedom, an Eisenhower appointment who rates as "moderate," is a former South Dakota Judge.

Gerald A. Brown, the fiery petrel of the Board, is its only non-lawyer and most unswerving Laborite. He was appointed by President Kennedy after serving in the Northern California regional office of the NLRB.

Pro-Labor Majority

In sum, Chairman McCulloch, Gerald Brown and John Fanning usually constitute a pro-Labor majority. Their opinions overturn previous decisions and, in effect, rewrite the Taft - Hartley and Landrum-Griffin postwar Labor laws, restoring the New Deal Wagner Act. Ray Rodgers nearly always protests, and Boyd Leedom sometimes does so. Here are three examples of NLRB-made laws without benefit of Congressional action:

1. The General Motors agency shop case: On February 20, 1961, a month after Mr. Kennedy took office but before he had reconstituted the Board, the five members were called upon to decide whether non-union workers in automobile plants of Indiana, a Rights-to-Work State, were compelled to pay union dues and whether a company was committing an unfair practice by refusing to negotiate under these conditions. The details are too complex to be given here, and are beside the main point. The Board decided 3 to 2 in favor of the company. But by September of the same year, with McCulloch and Brown inserted as Kennedy appointees, the same case was called up for reconsideration and reversed by 4 to 1, with Leedom dissenting.

This is the star example of "legislating by appointment." Both authors of the Landrum-Griffin Act were enraged. They declared that the NLRB had the single duty of carrying out the Congressional will. But Gerald Brown, the non-lawyer, boldly replied that the NLRB was a policy-making body, responsible to the Administration.

Examples could be multiplied without adding much to the evidence. We have here a form of lawmaking which is not carried out by elected officials and is hardly known to the public. Taking note of such criticism as I am making, Member Brown says that critics "have demonstrated a proclivity to oversimplify the Board's role" as one of merely calling a halt to unfair labor practices. Brown says that the Law is frequently unclear and incomplete, so that the Board must fill in the gaps.

There is little doubt that the three-member Kennedy majority is the most powerful Labor-Management tribunal at work today.

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

Old Father Time's an also-ran,
His fame sure did diminish,
With astronauts he's so far back—
Not e'en a photo finish.

Contemplating these space flights can make you dizzy and reach for that bottle of pills that give you fast, fast, faster relief, like the guy on the TV says.

EVEN THAT WORD "fast" is a has-been. When astronauts take off, what we used to think of as "fast" becomes a long-shot against a snail.

Look at it this way.

When Scott Carpenter made Father Time seem like a balky turtle in a Joshua Tree feature race, it was Thursday, May 24.

WHEN JOHN HUNTER, the news editor of The Desert Sun, pulled out of Beaumont, 30 miles away, on Thursday, May 24, it was about 6:30 a.m.

He had his radio going, listening to the thrilling broadcast of the space flight.

The announcer reported that Carpenter was over Australia and it was early on the morning of Friday, May 25, over there.

HUNTER DROVE the 30 miles from Beaumont to Palm Springs just under the legal speed limit so that he wouldn't draw the attention and possible wrath of a member of the California Highway Patrol — had one been watching. And they always are when you break 65 m.p.h.

When The Sun newsman reached Palm Springs he heard the radio man say that Carpenter had been spotted over Corpus Christi, Texas, by the tracking station in Florida.

THE TIME was about 7 a.m. PDT, Thursday, May 24, the day BEFORE the austronaut had lammed it over Australia.

Before Hunter could park his car at The Sun office, Carpenter was streaking over Beaumont, Texas.

So while The Sun staffer was driving from Beaumont, Calif., to Palm Springs, Carpenter zipped from Perth, Australia, past Beaumont, Texas.

WHAT MAKES it more intricate is that the astronaut, Carpenter, was over Perth, Australia, on Friday while the local man was in Beaumont on Thursday.

And that while he drove 30 miles in a little less than 40 minutes, shading the legal 65 m.p.h., Carpenter zipped almost 10,000 miles at around 17,500 m.p.h. That would frustrate a CHP man. Carpenter would never hear the siren at more than twice the speed of sound.

HUNTER CONSUMED about two-thirds of one time zone, Carpenter used up almost ten. And went from tomorrow back into today. Please pass those fast, fast, FAST pills.

Know the difference between a hypochondriac and an astronaut? The former puts capsules inside of him, the astronaut puts himself inside a capsule.

Now it's your turn to look for those fast, fast, FAST pills.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN:

Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a man I've been married to for 22 years. No matter what we need, he knows someone who can get it for him wholesale. I am not opposed to saving money, but we're stuck with so much stuff because of his "wholesale connections" it is ridiculous. Six cases of sour, pitted cherries. Two cases of mustard. A fur coat that smells like a cat when it's wet, and boxes of cosmetics all dried out. Our carpeting came in the wrong color and they refused to take it back. How can I convince him it is cheaper to buy things retail like everybody else? —SICK OF WHOLESALE

DEAR SICK: Your husband is a little "sick," too. He's allergic to the retailer's profit, insensitive to being skinned, and deaf to your common sense. Get him to a "retail" doctor, but fast!

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman who asks a man for his financial statement after four dates? —CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Before a proposal? I think that's a good way to lose a man without even trying.

DEAR ABBY: My parents decided to make a cello player out of my older brother. He hated it and wouldn't practice. He was so bad his teacher said he wouldn't teach him for a million dollars. Well, we had this old cello laying around the house, so my parents are forcing "me" to take cello. I hate it. I love music and want to take up the clarinet or some wind instrument so I can play in the school band. They refuse to invest in another musical instrumnt. Is this fair? —STUCK WITH A CELLO

DEAR STUCK: No, it is not fair. Suggest that they "sell" the cello (place an ad in your newspaper) and buy a clarinet with the money.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Trying To Help": Sorry, but I do not write to people with advice at the suggestion of a "friend." If the party you are attempting to "help" is ready to take advice from me, let him ask for it.

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self - addressed, stamped envelope to "Abby", care of this paper.

Remember When

May 28, 1952

On recommendation of City Manager Russell Rink, the City Council went on record as opposing billboards on U.S. 99 and State 111 at the northern entrance to the city.

Russell Denny of the Desert Bank, was named chairman of the Palm Springs district, Boy Scouts of America. Herb Ecclestone was named vice chairman and Lloyd Simon, district commissioner.

Residents on Valmonte del Sur and Via Colusa protested night parking at a nearby lounge, claiming congestion and undue noise.

May 28, 1942

For the fourth time this season, the Earle Strebe - Zaddie Bunker property on Tachevah Road, site of the old Rogers Stables, was the scene of a grass fire.

City Council adopted a resolution pledging cooperation with army flood control engineers for surveys at Palm, Tahquitz, Chino, Tachevah and Cathedral Canyons.

Ray Wilson, ration board chairman, announced no further sugar rationing until new forms were received.

May 28, 1932

The Whitewater - Palm Springs road will be closed for a brief period to permit resurfacing. The main road into the Village has been torn up for several miles and will be completely repaired before the opening of the next Palm Springs season in the fall.

Rescuers rushed to Cabazon where an airplane was reported crashed. The plane was piloted by Col. Hubert Julian, colored pilot, who suffered a sprained ankle but was otherwise uninjured as he landed his plane on the desert when his fuel ran out.

QUOTES

WASHINGTON — French Minister of Culture Andre Malraux, replying to a toast from President Kennedy which had apparently not been interpreted for him:

"I believe I am the first guest you have received here who will have to reply to your speech without knowing what you have said."

JACKSON, Miss. —Rep. J. P. Coleman, explaining why a bill to bar habitual drunkards from voting was shouted down in the Mississippi House:

"Some mighty fine people, including some former sheriffs, have gone to the state hospital for brief periods as habitual drunkards."

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—United Auto Workers president Walter P. Reuther, denying that an expected UAW call for pay increases was in conflict with President Kennedy's appeal for a more moderate wage policy:

"It is a question of emphasis and not a conflict of basic policy."

ALGIERS, Algeria — Rebel leader Youssef Ben Khedda, warning against continued Secret Army Organization (OAS) terrorism:

"These crimes do not speak in favor of your future in our country . . . The anger of our masses is rising."

BOB CONSIDINE:

Birdie Tebbetts Has Unique Distinction

NEW YORK—People . . . places . . . things . . .

The other night at Shor's the manager of the Milwaukee Braves came over to me and stuck out his hand.

Shake hands," Birdie Tebbetts said. "Shake hands with the first manager in baseball history who ever lost a double header to the Mets."

That's enough to put a man in the Baseball Hall of Fame.

Albert Stevens Crockett, who worked as a reporter for James Gordon Bennett, sometimes gets impatient with the harangues of various young factions within the Overseas Press Club. Mr. Crockett is pressing 90 and the blinkers are fading.

"Yesterday I saw the most perfect demonstration of harmony in a gathering of people of both sexes," he writes. "About half of those present were blind. I sat next to the chairman. Not until he had finished speaking did I learn that he had lost his sight at the age of 17. This was the lunch of the public relations and executive directors of the agencies for the blind.

"Our good friend Gregor Ziemer made the audience think I was still somebody. I was invited to speak briefly and I did—mainly extolling the virtue and value of Talking Books.

"I was maed to feel like a debutante. As a matter of fact, I must have blushed all the way to my toenails. Everybody seeme in high good humor. There was much joshing. To repeat, I have attended many luncheons and dinners but never have I enjoyed so clearly any gathering of people.

"I wish you could see a meeting such as yesterday's was. It taught me a lesson. Today I started spending less time in my reclining chair, because the latter induces too much slumber."

Telegrams Change

There was a day when the arrival of a telegram spelled disaster. That day passed, and the telegram in time became as bland as such salutations as:

To my cheery chummy pal
Mighty square and true
Kind we don't so often meet
But lucky when we do!

Now they're getting sinister again. Opened one the other day that began:

"Ever throw pea soup at a beautiful model ? — See a kitten muddy a $100 bedspread?—Watch applecheeked youngsters bathe in chocolate? This and more will go on at a colorful champagne gathering and dramatic demonstration of Manhattan's first coin-operated drycleaner located at—'

"Just sounded too rich for my blood."

Three cheers for Trujillo! Antonio Trujillo, that is. One of Spain's greatest artists is showing his work in America for the first time at the Galerie Internationale on Madison Avenue, with all proceeds going to the New Hope Guild, which is doing a fine job for emotionally retarded children.

The Colonel Van Play

The other night at Buddy Fogelson's and Greer Garson's party at '21' the strolling violinists stopped by the table where sat Col. and Mrs. Michael Paul, at whose home in Palm Beach the Kennedys stay occasionally. The Pauls patiently waited for the serenade ("Deep in the Heart of Texas") to end. Then Mrs. Paul said."Play something, Michael."

The incredible man reached up, took the violin of the leader of the players, and proceeded to play the most beautiful arrangement imaginable—while still seated at the table. When he had finished he handed the violin back to the flabbergasted pro and nonchalantly resumed his meal, while the audience bawled for more.

I looked at his wife, questioningly.

"He studied with Heifetz under Leopold Auer at the St. Petersburg Conservatory," she remarked.

Wish I had said that.

Wrote a review recently on Bob Moses's tribute to Al Smith, published by Simon and Schuster. He responds:

"Thanks. The Governor batted in another league, very different from those who play professional politics today."

You can say that again, champ.

PERUVIAN CHICKEN in gravy, with its masterful combination of flavors blended together, is sure to become an all-time favorite of good cooks everywhere.

WITH LOTS OF GRAVY

Try Peruvian Chicken

One of the reasons California homemakers have a reputation for being among the world's finest cooks is that they like to try recipes of other nations, like for instance, this Peruvian style Chicken in Gravy. The secret of its tender goodness is the long slow cooking of the chicken in the milk-rich gravy. The masterful combination of flavors create an economical party dish that is sure to become an all-time favorite. Besides, let's fact it, it's so nutritious. Recipe makes 6 servings.

2 cups soft bread crumbs.
2 cups milk
1 4-pound fryer chicken, cut-up—or 4 pounds drumsticks, thighs and breasts.
¼ cup olive oil
1-3 cup chopped onion.
1 clove garlic, minced
2 tomatoes, peeled and quartered
1 tablespoon minced pimiento
2 cups chicken broth or bouillon
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon rosemary
1 small can (1½ ounces) grated Parmesan cheese
Sliced hard-cooked eggs, if desired
Ripe olives, if desired

Soften bread crumbs in milk. Brown chicken in olive oil. Remove chicken and saute onion and garlic until lightly browned. Add tomato, pimiento, bread and milk mixture, chicken broth, salt and pepper and rosemary. Bring to a boil and add chicken; simmer over low heat for 1 hour. Sprinkle with cheese. If desired sliced eggs and olives may be served with chicken. Rice is an excellent accompaniment.

POP TO HOT DOGS

Today's Children Eat Piecemeal

NEW YORK (UPI) — Today's child grows up with the expectation that the motoring family doesn't just stop for gas. It stops for gas and soda pop.

A person doesn't just bowl or skate. He or she bowls and has a cup of coffee or eats a hog dog.

These trends in today's pattern of food and drink consumption show our younger generation rapidly is becoming a mass of piecemeal eaters, says a woman anthropologist with the U.S. government.

Dr. Margaret Lantis said the pattern is a reversion to primitive cultures when children ate frequently, picking up food—fruit and shellfish—as they went about their small affairs.

The primitive child's eating habits mattered little in dollars and cents.

Billion Dollar Cravings

But today's youngster, with his piecemeal eating habits, has become what the anthropologist called "the little prince of our economy."

Meeting his demands for everything from pop to hot dogs has become a multi-billion dollar business.

Dr. Lantis, an anthropologist with the U.S. Public Health Service writes of "The Child Consumer" in the current issue of the Journal of Home Economics, published by the American Home Economics Association.

She uses as a peg for her examination of eating patterns the ever-present vending machine. But she does not attack it.

" Iam not presenting the rem-its or demerits of automatic merchandising," she wrote. "I am using it only as an example of cultural change that affects eating. Similarly, I do not necessarily deplore the cultural changes. . . as a "people watcher," I simply record recent developments as they appear to one anthropologist."

Dr. Lantis recalled that in earlier generations in this country, for various reasons such as long hours of labor away from home, "we developed a pattern of widely spaced meals, with piecemeal eating frowned on.

"Recently, though, snacks and coffee breaks have become part of our life, so that aided by the refrigerator, the vending machine, and others of the newest gadgets, we are becoming like the simpler, less-organized, less-routined societies. . . not inevitably a bad thing."

New Eating Habits

Dr. Lantis said this casual eating partially fits into the larger pattern of eating away from home—at clubs, shops, drug stores, restaurant. "You might think, she added, that eating out broadens one's food experience and there's some evidence that it does."

But counteracting this, is the impersonal mass feeding via machines which must be confined to the few most generally acceptable foods and beverages.

"Bland versions of chicken and noodles, spanish rice, beef stew and perhaps a moderately 'hot' chili. . .are the fare. . .

Child Safety Is Important On Vacations

"No more pencils . . . no more books . . . no more teacher's worried looks . . .

"When local schools let out for the summer, more than formal education will be missing from the daily diet of this community's youngsters," Dr. Albert H. Domm said today.

The doctor, medical director and child safety spokeman for the Prudential Insurance Co. in the Western United States, pointed out that during the school year, educators joined parents in guarding children from accidents.

"Now, more than ever, home programs of safety training and accident prevention are urgent and timely," the doctor advised local parents.

With summer vacation, boys and girls will spend more time out doors.

"Some youngsters will go near water without the benefit of supervision or advance training. Some will drown. Some will return from the brink of disaster." Dr. Domm warned.

He noted that of the many youngsters who hike or play in unimproved city or country areas, a few suffer falls, animal bites or skin rashes.

"On the basis of past summers' experience, we know that some children will suffocate in abandoned refrigerators, fall in wells or excavations, hurt themselves on tools in the garage or yard, get burned playing with fire or become involved in automobile accidents.

"Surely this is not a pleasant prospect. But, parents who provide the training and supervision required for each situation can protect their children from such mishaps," the doctor stressed.

During the school year, children's activities are mostly confined to the school. While most teachers will be enjoying vacations or going back to school themselves, there are other dedicated adults to work with parents in filling the summer months with wholesome recreation for boys and girls, according to Dr. Domm.

"Scouting organizations, YMCA, church groups, 4-H clubs and parks and recreation centers will offer numerous activities to help parents provide their children with a full, safe and enjoyable summer vacation," the child safety spokesman reported.

Cream Cheese Pastry Is Ideal for Parties

Whether you're entertaining old friends, new neighbors or your husband's business associates, coffee and dainty pastries are always in glowing good taste. What's more, virtually everyone is a coffee - drinker. Your refreshments need not be complicated, of course, but they can have a touch of elegance — much easier than you might imagine.

There are, for example, petite Cream Cheese Pastries. Using the delicious cream cheese pastry base for all, vary the shapes and fillings of your pastries. The top tier of our tray holds tiny pastry triangles filled with sour cream and cherry preserves. The next tier has Liver Pate Pastries and on the bottom are Lobster Mayonnaise Pastries. Each is a perfect complement to a cup of fresh, hot coffee — poured from your most beautiful coffee-pot.

CREAM CHEESE PASTRY

1 cup butter or margarine
2 3-oz. pkgs. cream cheese
2 cups sifted enriched flour

Soften butter at room temperature. Add cream cheese. Beat until smooth. Add flour, half cup at a time, blending well after each addition. Work with fingers to smooth dough. Shape according to individual pastry recipes below and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes enough for about 3 dozen pastries.

Cherry Cream Pastries: Roll pastry ½-inch thick. Cut in 2-inch squares, then diagonally into triangles. Make a depression in center of each triangle. Bake. Fill with thick dairy sour cream. Top with cherry preserves.

Liver Pate Pastries: Roll pastry ½-inch thick. Cut into oblongs, about 1x1½-inches each. Make a trough-like depression in each oblong. Bake. Fill with Liver Pate (Combine 1 2¼-oz. can liver pate, 1 hard-cooked egg, minced, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 2 teaspoons mayonnaise and 2 teaspoons drained sweet pickle). Garnish with chopped pimiento.

Lobster Mayonnaise Pastries: Shape pastry in balls about 1-inch in diameter. With thumb make a deep depression in each ball. Bake. Fill with Lobster Mayonnaise (Dice canned lobster meat. Add snipped chives and enough mayonnaise to hold together). Garnish with sliced, pitted black olives.

TRY TO EXPLAIN IT

Fenders Dent Easily

Considering the length of time and the number of ways you use the family car in neighborhood stop-and-go driving every day, it's a wonder those mysterious dents and scratches that appear aren't more numerous.

Every try selling that bill of goods to the head of the house and master of the vehicle? Chances are that, if you have, it has prompted an accusing stare and even such unanswerable questions as "how did you do it?" and "where did it happen?"

Parking near the school, the butcher's, the bakery, the dry-cleaners or just for a civic or club meeting, all present inviting situations where grillwork can pick up an awkward curve or a fender can develop a new shape. But the prime scene of the crime, according to Jean Kinkead, women's consultant to The Travelers Insurance Companies, is the supermarket parking lot.

She points out that the percentage of accidents is particularly high in this area because room to maneuver vehicles is lacking, visibility is often poor, traffic is non-directed and entrance and exit signs are frequently unnoticed or ignored. Children, their toys, and supermarket shopping carts are added hazards.

One way to guard against them is to check all sides of the car for such dangers and any damage that may have been done to the car while you were shopping. If your car has been damaged in any way, let your insurance agent know as soon as you get home.

Because neighborhood driving differs in character from highway travel, Jean Kinkead cites other threats to safety where driver watchfulness is important:

1. Watch out for "green belt" blind spots. Shrubbery on corner plots in spring and summer may conceal crossing traffic or obscure direction signs.
2. Avoid "impulse" driving. If a store sign catches your eye and reminds you of a forgotten errand, don't react by trying to stop short or veering toward a parking spot. Reaction time of a chain of drivers builds up, could involve you in an accident.
3. Make sure your driving signals are understood. Avoid giving them at the last minute and repeat them. When slowing down, for example, check the rear-view mirror to determine the position of the car behind you. Flash brake lights a few times to alert the driver to your decreasing speed.
4. Form the habit of watching traffic patterns develop so that you can anticipate the action of drivers ahead of you and around you.

Chevoor Family to Hold Reunion Gathering from Far and Near

By PAT ANDERSON

Popular Evelyn Chevoor, who serves members and guests of Shadow Mt. Club their cocktails, is leaving the first of June for an interesting reunion in Watertown, Mass at the home of her father, Albert Chevoor. Besides the three sisters, brother, and nephew already there, Evelyn's brother Tom, manager of the Indian Wells Hotel, will fly out with his family. Evelyn's sister, Helen, and her husband Bob Barsoon of Los Angeles will attend, and coming from Lima, Peru will be another brother, William A. Chevoor, comptroller of foreign missions (who is in Who's Who of America). With Mr. Chevoor will be his wife, Claris, and sons Adrian and David.

Evelyn who claims she is a confirmed bachelorette ,will spend the summer in Boston, where she was born. A columnist in a metropolitan paper called Evelyn "The Terrible Turk", but she hastens to explain that although her parents were born in Turkey they are actually Assyrian, and descendents of the Babylonians mentioned in the Old Testament.

Evelyn is known for the unassuming manner in which she does kind and thoughtful things for people. She keeps her eye out for the young "growing-upsters" who abound at the club, and is always ready to be helpful. Patrons who visit Boston in the summer often look her up, and she has friends everywhere.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A number of my colleagues, who lack the advantage of having been born in Texas, have come to me for clarification of the Billie Sol Estes case.

It is not so much that they are confused by the complexities of his grain storage and cotton acreage operations. Anyone in Washington can find more complex things than that to be confused by.

What puzzles them is how Estes came to get a name like Billie Sol.

Some have suggested that his affairs would never have attracted so much public attention if he had been christened Mortimer, or Outer-Bridge, or something of that sort.

Such an assumption implies that Billie Sol is an unusual name, which, of course, it isn't. At least, not in Texas.

Regarded As Curiosity

If it is regarded as a curiosity in the other 49 states, that is because the other states are somewhat provincial.

Estes and I are natives of the same region, and to me his name sounds as commonplace as mine would to him. We are both products of a custom which I regard as wonderfully logical.

It takes cognizance of the fact that if you name a boy Robert, Alan, Joseph, Thomas, James, Samuel, Albert, Ernest, Philip, Henry, Kenneth, Edward, Benjamin, Michael or Stephen, he will likely be called something else.

So why not just name him Bob, Al, Joe, Tom, Jim, Sam, Ernie, Phil, Hank, Ken, Ed, Ben, Mike or Steve and be done with it?

Since the woods already are full of Bobs, Toms, Jims, etc., some parents take the next logical step and give their sons double names to aid in identification.

My own parents decided a single name would suffice, but I grew up with an assortment of Bobby Toms, Billy Bobs, Jimmy Joes, Sam Jacks and Tommy Rays.

Named After Doctor

As for Billie Sol, if I am not mistaken he is the nephew and namesake of a doctor whose first name was Sol.

The only drawback to this system of nomenclature is that if you ever move to some less enlightened area, you're in trouble.

I have spent a goodly part of my adult life explaining to credit offices and tax investigators that my name isn't my nickname. But they still seem to think that I am trying to pull a fast one.

My other difficulty is with people who arbitrarily change my name to what they think it ought to be. This has required a lot of straightening out over the years.

Texans who have these simplified names will find that life is much easier if they (1) Stay in Texas and (2) Stay out of the fertilizer business.

In 1950, there were 1.651 million marriages in the United States. By 1970, the annual total is expected to reach 2.14 million.

Horoscope Forecast

By CARROL RIGHTER

Tuesday, May 29, 1962

ARIES (Birthdays from Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—This can be a fine, prosperous day and the only place that a little trouble can brew is at home. Make your plans for the holiday early, especially if taking a trip.

TAURUS (Birthdays from Apr. 20 to May 20)—Important you drive very carefully today, or there can be an accident. Take time quietly to plan activities that will increase good will, income.

GEMINI (Birthdays from May 21 to June 21)—By being forceful at home, you can easily start trouble. Get out to the social affairs and meetings where prosperity and prestige can be increased. Be charming.

MOON CHILDREN (Birthdays from June 22 to July 21)—Endeavor to get data secretly from friends that will be helpful in getting ahead careerwise. Drive carefully. Avoid group activities or you get in trouble.

LEO (Birthdays from July 22 to Aug. 21)—Fine day for getting information from friends, but use own judgment in monetary, business affairs. Keep purse zipped. Get out only socially tonight.

VIRGO (Birthdays from Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Any plan for moving to a larger place or getting into bigger business unadvisable now. Take care of books and monetary interests wisely. P. M. fine romantically.

LIBRA (Birthdays from Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Don't permit secret worries from the past to deter your advancement, which is possible through auspices of kind associates. Have dinner out in P. M.

SCORPIO (Birthdays from Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Do your utmost to avoid gossips today, since you can otherwise make considerable progress in business or creative career. Get gadgets you need to be more efficient.

SAGITTARIUS (Birthdays from Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Guard good name and good will now by not gambling on anything. Keep busy with creative work. Tonight is fine with loved one or with hobbies.

CAPRICORN (Birthdays from Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Keep out of the limelight now and carry through with what close ties wish. See that you increase basic security through work, wise investment.

AQUARIUS (Birthdays from Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Avoid getting upset over little things, errors in computation that are minute, etc. Then the day is fine for meetings, business and personal advancement.

PISCES (Birthdays from Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—Rely on own resources now if you want to increase revenue and have much to spare as well. Associates have a way of belittling you. Be adroit, clever.

L.A. Angels Split K.C. Twin Bill

'Bo' to Face Nats in Home Opener Tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Bo Belinsky, whose pitching talent and brash attitude have combined to make him a candidate for rookie of the year — and kookie of the year — was to start tonight as the Los Angeles Angels arrived home to meet the Washington Senators.

Noted for his cockiness until he pitched a no-hit game earlier this month against Baltimore, Belinsky has become more modest while letting his hurling do the talking. His record of 6-1 is second best in the American League.

The Angels set up tonight's home opener against the Senators Sunday by finishing off their finest road trip in the brief history of the club with a double-header split against Kansas City, losing the opener 3-2 and winning the second game, 6-3.

The split gave the Angels an 8-6 record for the trip and left them in a virtual tie for fourth place with Detroit, both clubs 3½ games behind the first-place Cleveland Indians.

Grba Rebound

Eli Grba, returning to the form predicted of him before the season's start, pitched 7 1-3 innings in the second game and gained his second win of the season against one loss. It was three weeks ago that Grba gave up seven runs in the first three innings to Detroit and Angel manager Bill Rigney relegated him to a relief assignment.

Grba also aided the Angels' cause with his bat, smashing a seventh - inning homer and a single. Billy Moran also had a home run for Los Angeles in the seventh, this one with a man on base.

When Jose Azcue singled home Gino Cimoli with what proved to be the winning run in the first game, it marked the Angels second straight one-run loss to the Athletics. Cimoli had driven home Dick Howser with a ninth-inning single Saturday night for an 8-7 Kansas City victory.

Rigney Bounced

The Angels had taken a quick 2-0 first inning lead in the Sunday opener when Lee Thomas doubled home Albie Pearson and Moran. KC tied it up with runs in the first and sixth and then won it on Azcue's base hit.

Rigney continued to have his problems with the umpires, being ejected for a dispute on a play at home plate in the fourth inning of that first game.

"I thought the catcher didn't have the ball when he blocked Leroy," Rigney explained later that the play in which Thomas was tagged out by Azcue after missing the plate.

"The umpire said he judged it the other way," Rigney added. "Naturally we lost the argument."

THROUGH the joint efforts of the Varsity Club and the Boosters Club, a 16 mm movie projector has been acquired for the Palm Springs high school football team. The machine, known as a analytic projector, will be used to show black and white movies of the Indians football games to both the squad members and the P. S. Boosters Club after each game. Seated is Coach Dick Bunting, and standing from left is Carlos Reyes of the Varsity Club and Bob Williams of the Boosters Club. (Desert Sun Photo)

TWO WINNERS among the group of 12 members of the P.S. Women's Golf Club playing in the Fairmont Women's Golf Tournament at Riverside were LaRena Salkeld, left, first in low putts, with 17 on the first nine and 11 on the back nine, and Vivian Lefton, second place low net winner in the 3rd flight with a 72 score. Winners in Desert Rat Tourney

A field of 130 golfers played in the Annual Desert Rat Golf tournament staged at the Tamarisk Country Club Saturday and Sunday, and low gross in the 0-13 handicap class honors were shared by Milt Hicks and Jack McGrath, as they carded scores of 149 for the 36-hole event.

Next in the low gross field came Dave Mendel with a score of 151 and Harry Cirata finished next, one stroke off with pace with a 152.

Low net honors in this class went to Robert Stanley as he toured the Tamarisk course with a score of 131. James Grant was runner-up with a 132; Dr. Dene Zahn, 133, and Don Bollman next with a 135.

In the 14 and over handicap Class, low gross first place was won by Wally Dennis with a 162. Next came Jim Forrest with a 173 and Robert Evenberg and John Bash finished in a deadlock with scores of 177.

Low net winners in this Class were Eddy Howard who won first place with a score of 130. Irvin Leff was runner-up with 131 total; Archie Jacobs next with 136 and Bill Kesler finished with a 142.

As usual, the Annual Desert Rat tourney was tagged as a huge success and this year a larger and stronger field played in the 36-hole tourney staged at the Tamarisk Country Club.

Marvin Weiss Scores Ace at O'Donnel GC

Marvin Weiss, while playing with Bob Hope and Dr. Tom Hearn, scored a hole-in-one on the par 3, 135-yard No. 3 hole at O'Donnell Golf Club Sunday.

He used a five iron to make his ace, the first in a long golf career.

Angels Plan Extra Ladies Day Special

There will be a special Ladies and Senior Citizens Day Tuesday, May 29, at Chavez Ravine for the 1:30 p.m. game between the Los Angeles Angels and Washington Senators, it has been announced by Angels General Manager Fred Haney.

Normally, the Ladies and Senior Citizens Day is held on Thursday, but there is no game scheduled for May 31; thus the switch to Tuesday for that week only. Next regular Thursday for the fair sex and persons 60 years and over is June 7 at 1:30 p.m. for the Angels-Chicago White Sox game.

Cepeda Still Angry

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Willie Mays was all set to kiss and make up today with Elio Chacon of the New York Mets but Orlando Cepeda only rumbled menacingly at the name of Roger Craig.

Willie demonstrated Sunday that he can double on the wrestling circuit when he took hold of the flailing Chacon and gave him a neat body slam during a beef at second base.

It was the first fight for Mays in more than 10 big league seasons, where he has played prominent roles before as a guardian of the peace.

"Yeah, my first fight and I hope my last one," Mays said afterward. "Heck, I didn't want to hurt the kid."

The beef broke out in the seventh inning of Sunday's double-header at Candlestick Park where the league-leading Giants swept a pair from the cellar club, 7-1 and 6-5.

The smouldering Cepeda, however, remained angry at Craig who hit him with a pitched ball just before the Mays-Chacon bout.

"He knock Willie down twice in the first inning," Cepeda said. "Then after he hit me in the shoulder, he say something like 'Okay, come and challenge me,' Yeah, I'll challenge him all right. Craig's a good control pitcher. He don't have to throw at anybody."

TRAIL GIANTS BY 1½

Dodgers Beat Phillies Twice for 8 Straight

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Riding the crest of an eight-game winning streak, the Los Angeles Dodgers winged out of town today still solidly entrenched a game and a half behind the league-leading San Francisco Giants.

The Dodgers had to push over a tie-breaking run in the bottom of the ninth to score a 2-1 victory in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader with Philadelphia after having had an easier time taking the first game, 5-2.

In an effort to help their Pacific Coast League affiliate, the Dodgers flew to Spokane to meet the farm team there. Phil Ortega was scheduled to pitch tonight.

To New York

Immediately after the game at Spokane, the Dodgers fly to New York, where on Wednesday they take on the Mets in a holiday doubleheader with Sandy Koufax and Johnny Podres the probable pitchers.

The heroes of Sunday's victory were Tim Harkness in the nightcap and Frank Howard in the first game. Harkness singled with the bases loaded to score the winning run while Howard had four hits at four times at bat in the opener and drove in three runs.

Don Drysdale was the winning pitcher in the second game to give himself a 7-3 record. It was the 12th straight time he had beaten the Phillies, dating back to Sept. 10, 1958, and it was the earliest in his career that he had scored his seventh win.

Although he needed help in the ninth, Stan Williams won the first game for his fourth straight victory and third in a row in Dodgers' stadium.

Never Beaten Dodgers

Art Mahaffey pitched brilliantly for the Phillies in the second game until the ninth inning when he gave up three hits and a walk to record his sixth straight loss against the Dodgers without a victory.

Paul Brown was the loser in the first game.

But for his hitting, Howard might have been the goat in the first game. He failed to touch third base in the second inning when John Roseboro homered him in and his run was nullified on an appealed play. He also made a two-base error later in the game. But then he drove in two runs on a triple and another with a single.

A crowd of 34,378 raised the Dodgers' seasonal attendance to 800,542 as compared to 656,809 at the same time last year. The 14-game home stand drew 382,890 fans.

SEQUENCE AS Giants' Skipper Alvin Dark tries to restrain his first baseman Orlando Cepeda when latter made start for Mets' pitcher Roger Craig in 7th inning of first game of twin bill at Candlestick Park Sunday. Trouble began to brew earlier when Cepeda hit Met's Joe Christopher in head as he tried to double latter who was heading for second. In bottom of inning Craig hit Cepeda in arm with pitch. Cepeda started for mound, but was halted and had to be restrained again at first by Dark. Here, Dark holds Cepeda, left; Dark now has leg hold after falling to ground, upper right, and Dark starts to rise, left right. A full-scale rhubarb developed later. (UPI Telephoto)
